Disclaimer: Due to an ever changing world of businesses, web sites and phone numbers, I can only state that the information contained herein is only as accurate as what is easily locatable at the time of this writing. I make no guarantees to the accuracy of each item listed. This list has been compiled to better provide general access to information and services for the hobbyist and the professional in woodworking alike. Please e-mail additions, deletions or changes to woodworker@alliancecable.net so the list may be kept as accurate as possible. This is done on my own time and don't expect miracles if or when you send me modifications to this list. This list is provided to the members of Badger Pond Woodworking Forum free of charge and for the betterment of the woodworking community on the "Pond".
